

ESSENTIAL CIVIL WAR CURRICULUM

David A. Powell is a graduate of the Virginia Military Institute (1983) with a BA in history. He has published numerous articles in various magazines, and more than fifteen historical simulations of different battles. For the past decade, David's focus has been on the epic battle of Chickamauga, and he is nationally recognized for his tours of that important battlefield. The result of that study is his first published book, The Maps of Chickamauga, in 2009. His latest book is Failure in the Saddle: Nathan Bedford Forrest, Joe Wheeler, and the Confederate Cavalry in the Chickamauga Campaign, published in 2011. He is currently working on a full length monograph of the battle of Chickamauga, the first volume of which is scheduled for a 2014 release. David lives and works in Chicago, Illinois, where he is Vice President of Airsped, Inc., a specialized delivery firm.
