

ESSENTIAL CIVIL WAR CURRICULUM

Calvin Schermerhorn is a historian of United States slavery, capitalism, and the nineteenth-century Atlantic world. He earned a Ph.D. from the University of Virginia and is an associate professor at Arizona State University. In recognition for teaching, he was named Centennial Professor by the Associated Students of Arizona State University for 2010-11. He is author of Money over Mastery, Family over Freedom: Slavery in the Antebellum Upper South (Baltimore: Johns Hopkins University Press, 2011) and co-editor with Michael Plunkett and Edward Gaynor of Rambles of a Runaway from Southern Slavery, by Henry Goings (Charlottesville: University of Virginia Press, 2012). His forthcoming book is titled, The Business of Slavery and the Rise of American Capitalism, 1815-1860.